DOG WAKES 21 WHEN FUMES SWEEP BLOCK

To a little bull pup, twenty-one occupants of the Lewis building, at Shibley street and Washington avenue, Winthrop Beach, owe their lives. The bull pup, "Patsie," gave the alarm today that sent the occupants fleeing a fire to the street.

One fireman was overcome by ammonia fumes filling the burning structure, and was rescued by his mates. They then carried the owner of the ammonia plant into the building on their backs, that he might shut the ammonia off.

At the height of the blaze in the apartment block, one of the biggest in Winthrop, a refrigerator tank exploded in the confectionery plant of W. C. Ham & Co., Inc., occupants of the third floor.

Lieutenant Howard Perkins of Chemical 1 was overcome by the fumes and was rescued by firemen William A. Floyd and Harold Bangs. The confectionery proprietor, William C. Ham, was summoned from his home when firemen failed to find the ammonia shut-off, and was carried into the burning structure on the backs of firemen to stop the ammonia flow.

The twenty-one residents of the block who fled in their night clothes were: Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Carrington, their daughter, Anita, ten years old, and Mrs. Gretchen Kendrick, mother, Mrs. Abeline Reddy, Dr. J. J. McCormack, and his wife.

BROTHER HEARS CAVE MAN'S HEART BEATS IN RADIO TESTS TODAY

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 9 (A.P.).—Work was started today on a narrow flume, discovered some fifty feet from its entrance to Sand Cave where Floyd Collins is entombed, which W. B. Funkhouser, geologist, believes may prove a back entrance to the chamber near the imprisoned man. The flume now is for trial small for a man to enter.

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 9 (A.P.).—Five electrical tests conducted with voice amplifiers have convinced H. T. Carmichael, in charge of the Floyd Collins rescue work at Sand Cave, that Collins is still alive, after ten days imprisonment.

TWO GUNMEN BEAT CLERK IN EVERETT

Two hand-to-hand beat into unconsciousness Harry Menkel, twenty-two years old, a clerk in the Legn Market at Granddane square, Everett, today, backed him in an ice chest and departed with nearly $100.

Menkel was alone in the market when the two gunmen entered and asked for a pound of steak. When the clerk turned to fill the order he received a blow on the head with the butt of a revolver, knocking him unconscious and inflicting a three-inch scalp wound. The culprits tossed him into the ice chest and locked the door.

After cleaning out the cash register, the hand-to-hand departed in a Ford touring car bearing Rhode Island registration plates.

When Menkel recovered consciousness he attempted to escape through a window of his fruit stand. Nathan Bushner, proprietor of a tail shop next door, was attracted by the noise and saw the two men escape.

LOVE AFFAIR CAUSED ARREST OF CHAPMAN

Providence, Feb. 9.—A pretty brunette, young and married four years to a Providence business man, was revealed today as the "cherchez le femme" in the capture of Gerald Chapman, super-criminal charged with killing a New Britain, Ct., policeman.

Known humorously to the Hartford, Ct. police as "Mrs. Brown," the Providence wife in clandestine communications to the super-criminal, sent him a total of $2,000 within one space of six weeks, to finance his hope throughout the country in an attempt to elude the law.

The letters between "Mrs. Brown" and Chapman, which were the knowledge of her husband, her letters being addressed to and received by Mrs. Chapman.

HEROIC FIREMEN WILL GET MEDAL

The Boston Evening American announced today the institution of a Boston Fire Department Diamond Medal, to be awarded semi-annually to that member of the fire department whose departmental work in the previous six months stands out from that of all his fellows.

Based upon the recommendation of a committee of three, to be nominated within the next few days, the first Diamond Medal will be awarded on August 1, next, the second medal at six months intervals thereafter.

In connection with the award of each medal there also will be a presentation of One Hundred Dollars in gold to the wife, mother, or sister of the fireman.

IS THIS LITTLE GIRL BABY BORGIA?

Los Angeles, Feb. 9 (A.P.).—Mother love may finally prove the deciding factor in the battle between science and insanity for the seven-year-old girl, Alva Thompson, the confessed "Baby Borgia" who has been ordered locked away by the juvenile court until she learns the difference between right and wrong.

Mrs. Claire Thompson, the mother of the girl, has announced through her attorney, Charles H. Brown, Jr., that she will apply for custody of the child. The girl is now in charge of Lunacy Protection Officer Mrs. Jeanne McCracken.

It is the conviction of Mrs. Thompson and several mental experts that Alva's darker instincts date from the birth of the twin sisters she confessed poisoning.

"I am broken-hearted over it all," Mrs. Thompson said.

"If it had just been one baby I could have gone on fussing over Alva. But the twins took up all my attention."

The best I can do is to soothe everything else by repeating the damage."

SENT TO ASYLUM FOR LIFE; KILLED BROTHER-IN-LAW

Dr. Raymond D. Thiery of Somerville confessed and was today sent to the Bridgewater State Hospital for life, after a Middlesex County jury brought in a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity of the murder of his brother-in-law, David M. Noble.

The verdict was ordered by Judge James M. Risk at the request of Attorney Thomas M. Foster, counsel for Thiery. With Assistant District Attorney Robert M. Rushnell prosecuting. The confession, according to Rushnell, was made in German.

The jury brought in a verdict without leaving their seats, and Thiery, somewhat pale and with tears streaming from his eyes, was led away between two deputy sheriffs.

On the way out of the courtroom he stooped and kissed his father and brother.

MYSTERY GIRL SENT TO INSANE HOSPITAL

Salina, Feb. 8.—A mystery girl who talks incoherently of the electric chair, a killing, a heavy high bridge, was sent to the Salina State Hospital today after being picked up in Lawrenceville while acting strangely.

Madly, excited and speaking French and English fluently, she has proved an enigma to officials of the State Country Jail, in which she was brought from Lawrenceville on a technical charge.

Proceed for name and address was had given a variety of answers that name most repeated being "Gloria Watta."

She professes to "get Germain" and although she has given many other names as that of her spouse, "Her home," she speaks in New England Fall River dialect.

A working ring was in the girl's hand when she was picked up and she wore a silver ring that bore an initial.

She has long dark hair and wears a black velvet dress, black velvet hat, brown coat and black shoes and stockings.

TYPE OF COMMITTEE.
While no citizen has yet been desired to take a place on the Committee of Award for 1925, it is the present hope of this newspaper to obtain a committee made up of three truly representative Boonians; for example, an insurance underwriter, a widely known clergyman, and a business man connected with the city.

part of the plan remains to be worked out; any truly representative committee will be acceptable to the Mexican.

The Boston Evening American's best fireman Diamond Medal is established as a public exposition of the confidence of all Bostonians in the personnel of what long has been recognized as of the best fire departments in the United States. One is tempted to omit the qualifying phrase, and uses it only in recognition of the proverbial modesty of firemen.

In the opinion of this newspaper, the crack-jack fire fighting organization merits more public favor, more public encouragement, than there

It is not that Bostonians do not recognize and appreciate the valor of our firemen, but rather that heretofore there has been no means by which they might give expression to their appreciation.

NEW ENTRANT FOR BEAUTY HONOR

Norma Barlett, pictured above, is just one more example of New England beauty presented to show that President Coolidge must have been dreaming when he said Kansas had the prettiest girl in the Union. Miss Barlett's photograph was taken in the White Studio, Boston.

There was a temporary lull in the activities of the Boston Evening American Beauty Editor, when along came a photograph of Norma Barlett.

Editors who heretofore had treated as the Beauty Editor in the most cordially distant manner, sort of superior and superior, became gushing and friendly.

Hard-boiled copy readers passed on the fair features of Norma and burst into tears, convinced their lives had been failures through not meeting her in their innocent and unpolished youth.

All were unanimous in saying that Miss Barlett is another New England beauty product who suffers nothing in comparison with Miss Vivia Watson of Kansas, named by President Coolidge as one of the most beautiful girls he had seen. Miss Barlett lives at the Franklin Square House.

Counsel for Company Says the Public Should Not Object to Increase

The public should be willing to pay for increased opportunity to use telephones, Ralph A. Stewart, counsel for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., stated today in opening the case of higher rates before the Department of Public Utilities.

Mr. Stewart said it was obvious the company needed higher rates in view of the fact that at the present time it is operating 1,669,600 stations in New England, an increase of about fifty per cent. in ten years.

He said it was not advisable to reduce the dividend of eight per cent. as such action would strike a blow at the company's credit and delay future development.

The dividend, he said, has maintained the company's stock at only a few dollars above par for several years. He pointed out the law says the company may not use stock for less than par, and if the dividend were reduced, he declared, there can be no question but that stock would then sell below par.

Mr. Stewart stated that there are 98,000 stations in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont not owned directly by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., but that 50,000 of these are financially controlled by that organization. He said only 5,000 stations in New England are not only out of the control of the company, but it also has no use of them. The New England company, according to Mr. Stewart, controls about 90 per cent. of the stations in New England.

He said there are 16,714 stockholders in New England, the largest being the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, which owns 53 per cent. of the stock.

Stewart Defends Pact of Telephone Companies

"There isn't anything secret or mysterious about the contract between the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company and the American Telephone & Telegraph Company," said Attorney Ralph Stewart in opening the company's case today at the State House hearing before the Public Utilities Commission for increases in revenue amounting to $12,000,000.

Mr. Stewart defended the New England company action in making the contract with the American Telephone & Telegraph Company whereby the latter obtains fifty per cent. of the gross revenue of the New England Company in exchange for services rendered.

He said: "This contract has frequently been criticized and may be criticized here. It may be claimed that this contract is open to suspicion because the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. owns 53 per cent. of the New England company stock."

"The work done under that contract has given this country telephone service that is incomparably better than that of any country in the world. The validity of that contract has been upheld by the United States Supreme Court."

"The only question for you to consider in connection with that contract is whether the New England company obtains service commensurate with what it pays. We are prepared to show that the New England company couldn't perform the same service for anything like what it pays. This contract is the same as the American company has with the Southern Company."

EX-GOV. COX NOT YET TOLD OF MOTHER'S DEATH

Former Governor Cox will probably not learn of the death of his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Cox, in Manchester, N. H., until his steamer reaches Panama City tomorrow. His father, Charles E. Cox, said today that members of the family had been unable to get radio messages through to him. The ex-governor's brothers, Gay Cox and Judge Louis Cox, were in Manchester today, looking after arrangements for the funeral and an older brother, Walter B. Cox, noted grand circuit driver, was on his way home. Ex-Governor Cox is en route from California to Boston via the Panama Canal.

FORMER BELLE KILLS SELF AND 2 CHILDREN

Washington, Feb. 9 (A.P.)—A romance that began on the campus of the University of Virginia came to a final tragic chapter today. Friends and relatives were trying to communicate with Dr. Dorsey Waters, one-time captain of the Virginia football team, to tell him that his wife, Frances Walker Waters, forty-two, the Charlottesville belle he married nearly twenty years ago, had killed herself and their two children, Mary, sixteen, and Lindsay, 14. Their bodies were found here in a gas filled apartment.

Mrs. Waters was divorced eight years ago. She left farewell letters, one of which said she was "tired of being unhappy and struggling and being poor."

Irwin in United States district court.

DOLLAR LINER'S MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF AGED MAN

London, Feb. 9.—Lloyd's announced today that no further information has been received from the Robert Dollar liner President Harrison since its distress signals were reported in dispatches from Athens.

The vessel was off the island of Crete when the signals were received Sunday. She was bound for New York from Shanghai.

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—The Robert Dollar Company, owner of the S. S. President Harrison, which was reported in distress in the Mediterranean Sea, announced that officials of the company had received a cablegram from Naples saying the ship left that port at 11 a. m. yesterday.

Officials said they did not think it possible that the ship was in trouble. Company officials said that inasmuch as the President Harrison had left Alexandria Thursday for New York and had left Naples yesterday it would be so far west of the island of Crete when the signals were received Sunday.

Police are checking up on the elderly man's movements yesterday and last night.

BLIND WAR HERO, MARRIED, DENIED AID

New York, Feb. 9 (Universal).—President Coolidge and General Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans' Bureau, will have their attention brought today to the pitiful tale of Walter G. Mackie of this city, who has become totally blind as a result of war injuries and is receiving no compensation.

The disabled American veterans of the World War, through Harry D. Nierenberg, department commander for New York, will present the information, using it as a test case.

FAMILY IN WANT

"Though totally disabled, Mackie is receiving no compensation and his family is in dire want," said Nierenberg. "He should be receiving $117 a month from the government for the support of himself, his wife, and three children. His plight is a direct result of negligence of the local Veterans' Bureau office."

Mackie's claim was filed eighteen months ago. He was sent to a government hospital for treatment of an eye which was the result of his war service. There the eye was found to be tubercular and it was removed to prevent the spread of the disease to the other eye.

"Later a hospital pathologist examined the removed eye and declared it not tubercular. On the strength of his verdict the Veterans' Bureau rejected Mackie's claim."

CLAIM REJECTED

Still later, an eye specialist examined the eye again and found it tubercular, but Mackie renewed claim was again turned down.

With performance of "Pelleas and Melisande" and "Cavalleria" the two weeks' season of the Chicago Opera Company passed into history as the most successful that Boston ever has had.
From a box office point of view, the season was record-breaking. A "gate" of close to two hundred thousand dollars in two weeks previously was unheard of here. On other seasons of the Chicago Opera Company here, it was necessary to use substantial portion of the guarantee fund to pay expenses. Boston's Ultra Smart Set at Opening of Gardner Museum

Harvard Glee Club Entertains Visitors; Art Treasures on Every Hand Divide Attention, but Sargent Portrait of Donor Proved Cynosure of All Eyes

By Betty Olden

YESTERDAY'S private view of the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in the Fenway carried, of course, the cachet of ultra smartness, with society thronging the Italian villa of the late "Mrs. Jack Gardner."

THERE WERE TREASURES of art everywhere one turned, the dusky interior of enormous, stately rooms and long galleries gleaming softly with lighted candles set at intervals to emphasize some particularly interesting and priceless work.

NATURALLY THE John Singer Sargent portrait of Mrs. Gardner, the alto-like above names of fragrant Spring blossoms and lighted flickering candles, was the mecca for everyone at sometime during the afternoon.

MARVELLOUSLY APPEALING, too, was the flower and plant filled boudoir, where the Harvard Glee Club sang at intervals.

TO NAME EVERYONE there would be to recite the names of some five hundred of Boston's elite, but mention really must be made of Mrs. Harold Jefferson Coolidge and Mrs. Arthur Johnson.

MESDAMES COOLIDGE and Johnson, wives of the two men who head the list of Museum trustees, were notably much in the picture as it glimpsed them in the gallery where tea was served.

MRS. COOLIDGE was attired in a smart frock and large collar, and wearing light-colored shoes. Mrs. Johnson was in black, a chapeau, of sweeping lines and a rich wrap of fur.

GRAND OPERA WEEKS and their marvelous success, socially, mutually and otherwise, are still on everyone's tongue. Not for many a long year has opera in Boston had such record-breaking attendance as such a smart society following.

THE COUNTERPART OF THE HERMOND DARR, who has a fashionable following wherever she sojourns in this country and is well known in Boston, is at Palm Beach for the month.

SHE IS A Quakeress, the sister of the minister Louis De Meant, Minister of the Navy for France, and came to Boston a year or so ago to introduce to local society her pet after-the-war charity, the "Travail du Pover".

HER PATRONAGE here was of the modest Louis De Meant, Minister of the Navy for France, and came to Boston a year or so ago to introduce to local society her pet after-the-war charity, the "Travail du Pover".

AN INTERESTING Palm Beach colonist is Reginald Brook, member of many prominent clubs and now newly elected to the Salt Club, where he will probably put up during his Southern stay.

THE JOHN B. CURTIS of Beverly Farms and Boston are due in the Southern resort later in the season, that Mr. Curtis may indulge in his favorite sport of sailing.

MRS. CURTIS was Mary Shalott, the most exclusive circle at Palm Beach.

Society Notes

TRAVELERS here and there include Mrs. John Kilridge, of Boston, who has departed Southward for Augusta, Georgia. Also there are Mr. and Mrs. George Baird of Newport; Mrs. William E. Stone, of Cambridge, who has closed her home, and Mrs. E. M. Bulkeley of New York, who is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Kilmer.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Trask and Mrs. Frances Seymour are recent arrivals at the Lorraine, in New York.

Combined Hearst's International and Cosmopolitan Bigger and Better Issue

New York, Feb. 9.—The appearance on the news stands tomorrow of the combination of Cosmopolitan and Hearst's International magazines has caused speculation as to whether this may be the first move in consolidation of national publications similar to the wave of newspaper consolidation that has been sweeping over the country for the last two years.

On the news stands today are more than ten times the number of magazines that were there ten years ago. As a result competition in the periodical publishing field is intense, and those on the inside predict that only super-magazines will survive.

The consolidation of Cosmopolitan and Hearst's International, for instance, brings together in one magazine all the famous writers who formerly were featured in the two publications.

This means a larger publication than ever was produced before in the general magazine field, because the magazine contains the writings of Mary Roberts Rinehart, Irvin S. Cobb, Peter B. Kyne, W. Somerset Maugham, James Oliver Curwood, Rex Beach, George Ade, Meredith Nicholson, Norman Hapgood, Bruce Barnes, Robert Penn, Edwin Balmer, Howells, Van Loon, Harold Brown, O. G. McIntyre, Nina Wilson Putnam, George Weston, Adria Rogers, E. V. Rieu and E. V. Rieu.

The Cosmopolitan was first published in 1886. Hearst's International, which began as The Current Encyclopedia in 1901, changed its name to the World Today a year later. It was purchased by William Randolph Hearst, president of the International Magazine Company, in 1911.

The new Cosmopolitan is edited by Ray Long.

HANDEL AND HADY SING VERDI'S REQUIEM MASS

The Handel and Haydn Society sang Verdi's Requiem Mass at Symphony Hall yesterday afternoon.

The performance made the thirteenth the society has given since the first one forty-seven years ago. The music was impressive. The society was fortunate in having as the tenor soloist, Richard Crook, an American singer, who has attained genuine artistic excellence. Mrs. Alcock, the alto soloist, also was pleasing. Her voice is clear and of rich quality.

Emil Mollenhauer, conducted a chorus of several hundred voices. The Boston Festival Orchestra, John W. Crowley, principal, assisted in the performance, which was heard by a large audience.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Jad Salts if Back Pains or Acids Irritate

Push your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, distension, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

To help neutralize irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

CHICAGO TO HAVE SUPER STATION

Chicago, Feb. 2.—A new pulp suspension, one of the largest and most elaborately equipped in the world, will go on the air from Chicago shortly. The new plant, on the east coast of the International Paper Co.'s "WVIR," in the Writley Paper mill, will possess 5,000 watts power and will be the largest station of its kind more than $200,000.

Work on the station, on the first floor of the Writley Building, has been started and the first preliminary plant is being erected. The station is eight miles from Chicago.

SPECIAL PANEL IS CALLED FOR STOKES CASE

Chicago, Feb. 9.—A special panel was summoned today for possible jury service in the trial of W. E. D. Stokes, New York, and others, charged with conspiracy to defame Stokes' wife, Helen Elwell Stokes of Denver.

With four jurors chosen in three days, the effort to obtain the other eight proceeded with the presentation favoring married men.

Judge W. N. Gurnell, who is presiding, took a hand in the questioning of veniremen last week in an effort to speed the selection.

WARNS OF FAKE TAX EXPERTS

Fraud has been practiced a Federal income taxpayers as there is danger now that fraudulent practices will be carried before the close of the filing period, is the warning which the director of Internal Revenue, Nicholas E. Nichols of the Massachusetts District issues to taxpayers.

In a statement issued from his office in the Park Square Building, Collector Nichols cautions taxpayers to beware of so-called experts, who, through misleading statements and deceptive advertising, are looking for a crowd of taxpayers.

He is of the opinion that most taxpayers can easily make up their returns if they will but follow the instructions which accompany each tax blank.

In speaking of this warning to taxpayers of the State, Collector Nichols said:

"No cash should ever be paid anyone outside of the internal revenue office in the Park Square Building at No. 21 St. James avenue."

PRICES FOR UPKEEP

In extending its economy policy, the United States Postal Department is about to discontinue the use of eighty government-owned trucks for delivery of parcel post from the Burlington avenue, Back Bay station, and substitute "contract" trucks owned by carriers.

A notice to this effect has been posted in the Boston postal district stations and is considered an imposition by the eighty carriers now operating government-owned trucks from the Burlington avenue station.

Under the new arrangement, the carriers now operating government-owned trucks will be given first choice and if they decline the offer carriers doing other work will be permitted to take the contracts.

Thus far none of the carriers driving government-owned trucks have applied for the contracts.

DUNES MAN DIES IN ARMS OF MATE

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Hans of the Dunes, an honor graduate of the University of Chicago, who went to live in the sandy wastes along Lake Michigan between Michigan City and Gary, Ind., is dead after nine years of privation in the nature life he loved.

A Phil Beta Kappa, stellar mathematician and editorial secretary of the abstract Astrophysical Journal, a university publication, the thin pretty Alice Gray, reputed member of a wealthy family "in the East," retired to the sandy hills.

Her first winter in the dunes was uneventful, but she became an object of general interest the first spring when deputy sheriffs scouted through the sand hills to find a nymph who in the light of the moon was wont to appear in nature's garb along the lake shore.

Three years ago she was joined in her wild life by a giant, of whom nothing but the name Paul Wilson ever has been known. They were married and Wilson took up his bride's close-nature life.

BOUDOIR THIEF A DOPE ADDICT, IS NEW THEORY

A drug addict—a man of low mentality known to the police—is being sought by Boston police as the "Boudoir Bandit"—the criminal ex-tramuntano who has spread terror through the Back Bay apartment house district.

Although a limited special policeman in plain clothes have been assigned to the Back Bay district and a cordon of police is drawn around the entire district during the hours of darkness, no trace of the "Boudoir Bandit" has been unearthed.

Certain peculiarities of the apartment robberies committed by the so-called "Boudoir Bandit" have convinced the police the man is addicted to drugs and a careful checking of police lists of known criminals have convinced the authorities the man wanted is known to them.

As a striking evidence of the type of man the "Boudoir Bandit" is regarded to be, the police have recovered a watch the man stole from the apartment of Joseph Kelley at No. 18 Madison road.

This watch was taken by the thief after he trapped up Mrs. Kelley and passed the night in her apartment while she lay bound, gagged and helpless on the bed.

The significant thing, however, is that the thief passed the watch for just $1. In this passing of the watch the police see the work of a drug addict—selling to do anything else any chance to get the money needed to obtain the drug to which he is addicted.

The watch was worth much more than $1—was a valuable timepiece, in fact, and in a burglary matter a man could have procured a good sum for it, but finding money badly needed, the thief made a South End pawn shop.

COOLIDGE BUST BARRED BY COMMITTEE'S VOTE

No bust, tablet or statue of President Coolidge will adorn the walls of the capital building on Pennsylvania street. That such recognition be given the former Governor was the petition of Warren G. Harding, the legislative committee on State House voted to give Patten leave to withdraw.

In due time a portrait of the President will take its place with those of other former chief executives of back Chamberlain in the executive chamber.

$1,200,000 Embassy

Washington, Feb. 9.—Approval of this office of $1,200,000 for a new American embassy at Tokio, to replace the one destroyed in the earthquake, was approved today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over the opposition of back Chamberlain and Senator Swanson of Virginia.

TWO HELD, MURDER CHARGED

Leary and Burke Accused in Death of Leo Downey, Shot in Saloon

Also held without bail as material witnesses, were Frank E. Penney of No. 502 Huntington avenue; John J. Smallcomb of No. 346 East Second street, and William Mulvaney of No. 15 Pond street, Dorchester.

The case was continued by Judge Logan until February 21 for hearing.

Downey was dead on the floor of the saloon when Penney entered Saturday night, according to his story.

Burke asserted that Downey was shot by three holdup men who invaded the saloon.

CURLEY'S INFANT SON GREATLY IMPROVED

Francis X. Curley, infant son of Mayor and Mrs. Curley, who is ill of pneumonia at the Curley home in Jamaica was greatly improved today.

The mayor stated that Dr. Martin J. English, the Curley family physician had informed him that the left lung of the child was in the process of clearing up and that his temperature had dropped to 101 degrees.

Both Dr. English and Dr. Edward Place of the City Hospital, who have been in attendance constantly at the Curley home say it will be at least ten days before the child is out of danger.

Thunderbolt No. 95

On Sale Tuesday

Side fastening or back fastening. It has taken a great deal of planning and a great deal of forethought in buying to make this Thunderbolt price possible, but the result is well worth the effort. The very styles that are most in demand are here—garter brassieres with inserts of webbing at side and long brassieres without garters, that come well over the top of the corset. All are of repp, rayon, striped in effective design.

Carver brassiere with side fastening, other brassieres side or back fastening.

Earnest budgeters will make this the time to buy enough brassieres to last through the summer at least.

700 RUSSIANS ON WAY TO U.S. HELD IN ENGLAND

Southampton, England, Feb. 8.—Seven hundred men, women and children are penned in a detention camp near here, living in enforced idleness with only an occasional strike, a birth or a wedding to amuse them.

Twenty-five carriers in other branches of the service are said to have applied for contracts, but unwilling to suffer a monetary loss in order to escape unsatisfactory work they are now doing.

The government plans to allow the carriers $100 a month extra for supporting the means of carrying the mail. Under the new plan a carrier is to furnish a one-ton truck and maintain it.

Carriers who have made a thorough study of the subject say it would be impossible to obtain a truck and maintain it for less than $125 a month. Some carriers believe a fair allowance would be $150 a month.

COST OF TRUCKS

"At the present time," said one of the carriers who has been in the service for many years, "most of the delivery of parcel post from the Burlington avenue station to points within five miles of the State House is being done with three-eighths-ton trucks. In other places, such as Quincy and Waltham, the government is allowing $10 a month to carriers using trucks of this size.

The new order requires us to furnish one-ton trucks for the same allowance, although one-ton trucks cost $120 to $150 more, as well as to maintain them and other equipment, and amortize the investment.

One of the largest trucking firms in Boston charges $20 a day for use of a one-ton truck and driver. Let's say the driver costs $5 or $6 a day. That leaves $14 or $15 for the truck. Yet the rich United States government, through its officials, expects us poor carriers to furnish a similar truck for the princely sum of $130 a day. It's simply can't be done and any automobile dealer will tell you so. Even without liability insurance it can't be done. I have the word of a reputable dealer to that effect.

UNJUST TO MEN

"Not one of the carriers now operating government-owned trucks out of the Burlington avenue station has applied for a contract to continue his own work. A few out-siders have, merely to escape unsatisfactory hours or were in some other branch of the service. They are willing to suffer a monetary loss to get better hours or working conditions as the parcel houses are real bankers hours, being from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

"This new plan is unjust to the men, however, in its present form. The carriers do not object to supplying trucks, but they want enough to reimburse them in case they do take the contracts."

DUNES MAN DIES IN ARMS OF MATE

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Hans of the Dunes, an honor graduate of the University of Chicago, who went to live in the sandy wastes along Lake Michigan between Michigan City and Gary, Ind., is dead after nine years of privation in the nature life he loved.

A Phil Beta Kappa, stellar mathematician and editorial secretary of the abstract Astrophysical Journal, a university publication, the thin pretty Alice Gray, reputed member of a wealthy family "in the East," retired to the sandy hills.

Her first winter in the dunes was uneventful, but she became an object of general interest the first spring when deputy sheriffs scouted through the sand hills to find a nymph who in the light of the moon was wont to appear in nature's garb along the lake shore.

Three years ago she was joined in her wild life by a giant, of whom nothing but the name Paul Wilson ever has been known. They were married and Wilson took up his bride's close-nature life.

They lived in a shack by the lake at the station which bears his name. It was in Wilson's arms that Dame died, according to medical treatment, preferring death in the dunes to living in a hospital.

A doctor was called only after she had become unconscious. She asked her husband to cremate her body and scatter her ashes to the winds from the top of Mount Tom, the highest and hill along the lake shore.

RICE AND OLD SHOES

By Mabel McKee

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

"It is the experience of the human race that things which are obscure are more easily believed."
Light troubles eyes. Immense troubles ears.
Allow time and modern's delay are administrators of things badly very weightily is the authority of.
"Importantly is often lost by pause."
Even in the utmost propriety the piece of friends is to be very great employed.
From another's evil qualities a man can correct his own.
Fear, do not blame what cannot change.
He labors in vain who tries to teach all.
There is none so great but he

Tom quarrel had started when he found Tom's old shoes on the floor. Tom was a big, broad, and half apologetic. But a little later he too grew angry. His intention was to go hunting several more times this season. He saw no reason why he should carry the hunting shoes to the attic every time he came home from a hunt. Besides, when he was at home, his mother allowed him and his brother to wear their shoes in the best shoes in the house if they wanted to do that.
Ten minutes later he was gone. He had first fired out a warning shot, but he wouldn't be here to hunt. He brought home and stand around while he cooked them his special way in his own kitchen and have all that meat.
Words Failed
Words easily failed her, she was so furious. The tint of red in her hair became more and more pronounced. Fire sparkled in her blue eyes. And she fairly flew down stairs, not at all like the elements of our devoted wife she was expected.
"Woman," she called in an excited, lively dangerous voice. "Where did you put those horrid, hunting shoes of yours?"
But she was the town's most successful, dramatic critic. Moreover she was not only a very successful large people show toward visitors! For a few minutes she stood there. She was busy watching on her old. Very soon, however, Jeanne was standing. But all the time her eyes grew more serious and more beautiful. Finally she crept over to Jeanne. "Excuse me, I mean," she whispered. "I want to telephone Tom."

She was off to the nearest telephone booth. She heard her nickel drop into the slot, the bell ring and then Tom's gruff voice. Oh, but I was hard to speak after that dodder, I craved. "Who is this?"
But Jeanne Jeanne did it. "Tom," she began. "I want your old shoes to stay in my closet. I want to stay in your heart and I want—"
Rushed To Her
Like a rush of great water came Tom's interruption. "Honey, where are you?" he demanded. "You are right where you are. I'm coming to you as fast as the fastest taxi can bring me."
Back at the theatre, Molly Jeanne was helping the "bride" shake the rest of the rice from the brim of her hat. And being a bachelor maid she scooped a little of the rice.
"Rice and old shoes," she laughed. "I can't see a thing romantic about them. But you never can tell what takes in love will say or do when you even mention clothes to them."

MEDBURY SAYS

By John P. Medbury

By John P. Medbury

PROOF of the new moving picture theatres have installed sound systems where soft-hearted women can go and cry without disturbing the rest of the audience.

HERETOFORE, women who felt like weeping at night had to sit up loud or use the telephone booth.

THESE new "Bawl rooms" are in charge of a maid who wipes your tears and wrings your handkerchiefs.

IF you haven't got a handkerchief, we will furnish you with a bucket to cry into.

AND then after you're finished weeping you can pour your tears into the window.

ONE moving picture theatre gets enough tears from its patrons to water ferns and sprinkle the flowers.

AND whenever there's a shortage of water the management shoots a mud picture.

OF course some of the theatres charge so much for their tickets that the customers do their crying at the box office.

ONE large picture house has twenty-seven individual "Bawl ing Booths" where a husband can take his wife at the sign of the first tear.

WHILE these rooms were constructed for ordinary crying they weren't built for hysterics.

EACH woman is allowed to weep for fifteen minutes and then she has to give some of the other customers a chance.

MEDICAL statistics show that under normal conditions it only takes ten minutes and a half to empty any eyes.

BUT many a time she has awakened during the night to find him writing on the back of her neck.

NOT only that, but he rubbed all the skin off her arms with an eraser.

SHE woke up one morning and found both of her cheeks covered with four-letter words.

THEN she had to wait until he finished his pencil before she could wash her face.

CRACKER crumbs he had made enough, but a wife takes to sleep in a bed that is filled with pencils.

HED sharpened the pencils with his teeth and push the shavings out with his feet.

SHE had to go to bed with gales on her toes from getting splinters in her ankles.

SHE wouldn't let her husband have the light on in the room so he started taking a lantern to bed with him.

HU only has one fountain pen so he keeps an extra supply of ink in the hot water tray.

LIKE all other fountain pens, it leaks. And in the morning the sheet looks like the uniform of a 10¢ Klan Klansman from Pittsburgh.

IF a man has to figure out crossword puzzles he had it would be a whole lot easier to use a typewriter.

BEFORE this woman's husband got the crossword bug, he went every night to strangle out the patchwork on a Crazy quilt.

HE uses his bed for exercise.

Scene.—A business street.

Merchant (in front of store)—
men, would you like a job?
Unemployed individual—I should not.

Merchant—But, see here, do you know that unless you get and save your money, you'll never get anywhere.

Unemployed individual—But don't want to go anywhere.
(Starts.)

Don't go to business with half-broke men. He can't do it.

Winning crowdsmen control keeps the bankroll from getting horizontal, so to speak.

LAZY LUKE BAYS

Englishman who said America has no real family life has never visited our divorce courts.

Sufficient for the day.
